.....Some Insight from Our Clients.....

Southwest Electric Safety Exchange April 2011

“I wanted to take the time to give you a few of my thoughts about the Overton’s staff. Some words definitely come to mind...AMAZING, FRIENDLY, AWESOME!”

“I was blown away, to put it mildly...I believe to have service of this caliber it must be a top-down culture within the company. Every single person I spoke with, from housekeeping to front desk to shuttle drivers to banquets to sales, was friendly and helpful. I never once got that “it’s not my job” attitude or look. No one ran off when they saw me coming, even after 4 days, when they knew I needed something else.

“I have worked with properties that grudgingly did what was needed, but we were charged for it – for every room change or box moved or whatever. At the Overton, I was told consistently, “that’s our job” and “that’s what we are here for”. Boy, is that refreshing! As a small business owner, that is how I operate, but often that attitude gets lost in larger companies.”

"I just wanted to thank the both of you for all of your help leading up to and during our conference a couple of weeks ago. All of the attendees enjoyed the conference and we received many, many positive comments about the hotel and set-up. Everyone seemed to be quite impressed (and meteorologists in general, for whatever reason, aren't easily impressed). Anyhow, just wanted to say thanks and it went so well from our perspective, we probably won't wait another 10 years before doing it again! On behalf of all of the organizers, thanks again for helping us conference rookies through the process."
